

io is a new project that aims to bridge the divide between various writing disciplines. Taking the form of a journal, io's objective is to challenge the ways we read and write text in the contemporary world.

io is for readers & writers that are interested in the transition and trajectory of modern text.

Submissions could include but are not exclusive to:

prose, poetry, diary entries, lyrics, essays, dialogue, plays, manuals, lists, short stories, opinion pieces, vignettes...think strange form & structure, the experimental, non linear narrative...there is no middle, beginning, end...

Please email submissions to io.aotearoa@gmail.com by July 1st.