

Call for Workshop

ACM ASIACCS 2019 Call for Workshops

14th ACM ASIA Conference on Information, Computer and Communications Security (ACM ASIACCS 2019)

Jun 7–12, 2019, Auckland, New Zealand

Proposals are solicited for workshops to be held in conjunction with ACM ASIACCS 2019. Each workshop provides a forum to address a specific topic at the forefront of security research.

A workshop associated with ASIACCS can be either one full day or half day in length. Proceedings of all such workshops will be available to the workshop attendees. Each workshop will also have online proceedings through ACM Digital Library, with a separate ISBN. Submissions of workshop proposals must reach the workshop chair by Nov 30th, 2018.

Workshop Proposal Submission

For new workshops, proposals should include all of the following:

- Workshop title,
- A draft “Call for Papers” articulating the scope and topics covered by the workshop,
- A brief summary and justification for the workshop, including anticipated benefits to the ACM ASIACCS community,
- Proposed length (half or full day), format, and agenda,
- Expected number of submissions and acceptance rate,
- Expected number of attendees,
- Names of program chair(s), and, if available, tentative program committee, and
- A one-paragraph biographical sketch for each organizer, describing relevant qualifications, including research and conference/workshop organizing experience.

For previously-held workshops, in addition to the above, proposals must provide the following information, for two most recent incarnation of the workshop:

- Number of submissions,

- Number of accepted papers, and
- Number of registered attendees.

Please email your proposal to workshop chair Kim-Kwang Raymond Choo via his email-id

Proposal Evaluation Criteria

- The workshop is within the scope of computer and communications security and concerns a coherent and important technical topic of high interest in the community.
- Its novelty with respect to other forums, especially with respect to other ASIACCS workshops.
- Its likely impact on the target community, including likely high participation.
- Research caliber of the PC committee and PC chairs.
