

New Zealand Research Software Engineering Conference 2022

Virtual conference | 12-13 September 2022

Sustainability: Communities, Digital Practices and Tools

Sustainability in research is a result of good practices in multiple components. Sustainable communities can create an environment for sharing, learning and promoting good standard practices within a community of practice. Digital practices and tools are central to the way research is conducted and creating sustainable software and FAIR data adds to the longevity and scalability of research.

www.rseconference.nz

You can expect:

- Presentations
- Training workshops
- Sharing tools, techniques, and processes
- Networking
- And much more....