SEMINAR

Influenza: Immuno-epidemiologic insights

Seasonal, swine-origin and pandemic influenza strain outbreaks: interactions and implications

Dr Danuta Skowronski is the Epidemiology Lead for Influenza and Other Emerging Respiratory Pathogens at the BC Centre for Disease Control in Vancouver, Canada. Dr. Skowronski has been responsible for applied public health research related to influenza and immunization, with more than 100 related publications.

Dr Danuta Skowronski
BC Centre for Disease Control, Clinical Professor, School of Population & Public Health, University of British Columbia, Canada

Wednesday 3 Oct 2012
12.30 - 1.30 pm, Seminar Room 515
Melbourne School of Population Health
Level 5, 207 Bouverie Street, Carlton

ALL WELCOME