INDONESIA FORUM: AN OVERVIEW

The University of Melbourne pioneered Indonesian studies in the mid-1950s. Over the decades Indonesian studies at the university have seen a growth in student numbers, staffing and the diversity of Indonesia-related subjects offered to students. Research and teaching relating to Indonesia is conducted across several Departments, Faculties and Centres, including Architecture, Arts, Building and Planning, Economics and Commerce, Law and Medicine.

The Indonesia Forum was formed in 1991 as the Indonesia Interest Group. It changed its name in 1996, to standardise with other country forums throughout the university. The Indonesia Forum is an informal and open network of academics and administrative staff of the University who share a common interest and professional involvement in Indonesia. Members keep in touch by email and hold regular meetings, seminars and discussions. For the past twenty years the Indonesia Forum has hosted major functions that have brought together the wider Melbourne Indonesian and Indonesia-interested community on campus.

The Indonesia Forum also plays a policy advisory role on Indonesia-related issues within the University and works closely with the Asia Institute and Asialink, whose missions are related but more broadly oriented towards Asia as a whole. The Forum also maintains close links with the Indonesian Postgraduate Students Association, international students from Indonesia and domestic students studying in Indonesia-related areas. Since 1999 the Indonesia Forum has convened six-monthly postgraduate roundtables for students studying in Indonesia-related fields.

The Indonesia Forum maintains an email bulletin, moderated by Charles A Coppel, to keep members up to date with Indonesia-related events on campus and elsewhere, including in Indonesia. Its website <www.indonesiaforum.org.au> provides Indonesia-related information for staff, students, prospective students and colleagues from other institutions. From 2014 the Forum began a Twitter account <@indoformmelb> and a Facebook page <<https://www.facebook.com/indonesiaforummelbourne>>.

CONVENOR'S REPORT 2014

In 2014, the University of Melbourne saw continued growth in research and engagement with Indonesia and Indonesian Studies. Some highlights were the appointment in the Faculty of Arts of four new Indonesia focused scholars. Dr Dave McCrae (Senior Research Fellow) and Dr Ken Setiawan (McKenzie Postdoctoral Fellow) were appointed to research positions at the Asia Institute and Dr Rachel Diprose and Dr Bart Klem were appointed to research and teaching positions in the School of Social and Political Sciences. We warmly welcome them to the University.

The Forum held three major main events in 2014. The first event, held on 11 February, was a film screening of 40 Years of Silence together with a discussion with Director, Professor Robert Lemelson (UCLA). This event was organized in conjunction with Dr Erminia Colucci from Melbourne University's School of Population Health, Faculty of Medicine, Dentistry and Health Sciences. Professor Lemelson was visiting the university as part of the Cultural and Global Mental Health Film initiative sponsored by the School of Population Health. He also screened and discussed two films examining mental health issues in Indonesia: The Bird Dancer and Standing on the Edge of a Thorn.

The second event, on 4 September, was the Indonesia Forum Public Lecture delivered by Professor Melani Budianta, Humanities Faculty, University of Indonesia, entitled: 'The 2014 Indonesian Presidential Elections: The Perspectives of Gender, Religion and Ethnicity'. In this lecture Professor Budianta provided fascinating insights into contemporary Indonesian politics and issues related to pluralism.

The third event held on 10 November was the book launch of Tiger Stone by Deryn Mansell (Asia Education Foundation, the University of Melbourne). The novel was launched by Professor Virginia Hooker (Australian National University) and Ms Dina Indrasfitri (freelance journalist and artist).

The Forum held two Postgraduate Roundtables in 2014 allowing students across Melbourne and beyond working on Indonesia related topics to present their research. The 30th Roundtable was held on 29 March, with 17 students presenting. The 31st Roundtable was held on 6 September, with 10 students presenting. About thirty people attended each roundtable. There were presentations on a wide variety of topics across different disciplines including medicine, science, engineering, technology, history, gender studies and development. Issues discussed at the 2014 seminars ranged from the Islamic State of Iraq and Syria (ISIS) and Indonesian foreign fighters, politeness strategies in the parliament of Yogyakarta, corruption and democracy, international security initiatives in Indonesia's supply chain and logistics, primary care reform in Indonesia, primary care psychology training, patient safety incident reporting, ethnic identity negotiation among young Australians of Indonesian origin, and the effects of community intervention on plastic bag waste reduction in Bandung. Thanks to the staff and students who gave up their Saturdays to attend these roundtables.

Over 2014, the number of postgraduate students researching topics related to Indonesia continued at a consistent level with four PhD completions. (See list of current thesis topics in Appendix 3 of this report.) Our PhD graduate Dr Vanessa Hearman (with a thesis in history completed in 2013), was jointly awarded the best thesis in Asian studies prize from the Association of Asian Studies.

In 2014, we had three visits from Indonesian academics on short fellowships provided by the Faculty of Arts Indonesia Initiative. Professor Bambang Purwanto (Universiats Gajah Mada) visited SHAPS and Professor Melani Budianta (Universitas Indonesia) and Dr Dewi Jayanti (Universitas Udayana) visited the Asia Institute. During their visits they taught in faculty subjects, ran postgraduate roundtables, presented their research, attended Indonesia related events on campus and established research and teaching collaborations with staff.

There were many other events on campus which had Indonesian speakers or an Indonesia focus. In the first half of the year CILIS sponsored two panels on the 2014 Indonesian Elections entitled: 'The Indonesian Election: What Really Happened' and 'Indonesia's Presidential Elections: What Happens Next?'. The Public Policy Fellow Mr Nicholas Reece also ran a university Indonesian election blog to which many staff and students contributed articles. Later in the year Dr Todung Mulya Lubis presented a lecture for CILIS entitled: 'Indonesia's Presidential Election: Reform Challenges for the New Administration'.

Associate Professor Robyn Sloggett (SHAPS) and Dr Edwin Jurriëns (Asia Institute) co-ordinated the Australia Awards Fellowships Program on Reconciliation and Cultural Recovery between 1 September- 5 October. Counterparts included Institut Kesenian Jakarta, Indonesia; Australian National University, Canberra; Australia Timor Aid, Timor-Leste; Belun, Timor-Leste; Universitas Indonesia, Indonesia; Institut Teknologi Bandung, Indonesia; University of Tasmania, Hobart, Australia. Participants attended the International Council of Museum and Committee for Conservation's 17th Triennial Conference, 'Building Strong Culture through Conservation'.

The School of Social and Political Sciences hosted a two day international symposium on 'Indonesian social policies in comparative perspective', convened by Professor John Murphy. The symposium included 25 invited participants from Universitas Indonesia, Universitas Gadjah Mada, National University of Singapore, Australian National University, University of Sydney, SMERU Research Institute (Jakarta) and staff and PhD students from the University of Melbourne (including from the Melbourne School of Government and the Nossal Institute of Global Health).

CILIS at the Melbourne Law School hosted the 10th Islamic Studies Postgraduate Conference.

Publications by Indonesia Forum staff members have appeared in a wide variety of outlets in 2014, ranging from international journals to local newspapers and have covered topics as varied as colonial and contemporary architecture, linguistics, asylum seekers, law, new media art, disaster management, the 1965 violence, memory, Islam, the 2014 elections and local politics.

The University's Indonesian language enrolments have remained stable in 2014 with a student population that combines both Arts students - many continuing their language study from school - with those from faculties outside of Arts who choose to study Indonesian as part of their breadth requirements under the Melbourne Model. Enrolments in gamelan classes continued at a healthy number.

The Indonesia Forum would not have been able to engage in its activities without the help of many other organisations and supporters at the University of Melbourne. The Forum is very grateful to the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Engagement), Professor Susan Elliott, whose office has provided funding to the Forum. The Forum is also grateful for the guidance and support for Indonesia related research and activities to Professor Simon Evans, Pro Vice Chancellor International and Professor Mark Considine, Dean of Arts.

As the 2014 Convenor I am very grateful to Dr Edwin Jurriëns, the Deputy Convenor of the Forum, who was a delight to work with. I would also like to thank Dr Helen Pausacker, Dr Jess Melvin and Dr Amanda Achmadi for the invaluable work they have put into organising Indonesia Forum events and for their advice and guidance. Associate Professor Charles Coppel has continued to moderate the Indonesia Forum's email list, which is a vital means of communication both between Indonesia Forum members and with the wider community. In 2014 we launched a new website. We wish to thank Tito Ambyo for his excellent work on the website.

I also wish to thank PhD student Hani Yulindrasari who organised the 2014 Postgraduate Roundtables and Dr Jess Melvin and Tessa Shaw who helped with the compilation and production of this report.

STAFF WITH INDONESIA INTERESTS

Associate Professor Robyn Sloggett

In 2014 CCMC strengthened ties with the Australia Awards Fellowships Program on Reconciliation and Cultural Recovery.

The Grimwade Centre for Cultural Materials Conservation (GCCMC) ran a student led exhibition on Tais in partnership with Timor Aid and was involved in the creation of a new network – the TAIS Solidarity Forum (Timor-Leste, Indonesia, Australia) of researchers, cultural activists and artists exploring cultural recovery through understanding the past – cultural heritage, storytelling and archival work and the future – intergenerational works and new contemporary art (See <<http://taisforum.blogspot.com.au>>). The Forum is intended as 'an informal networking site for the promotion of people to people cultural dialogue and collaboration between three countries'.

PROJECTS/ ACHIEVEMENTS

Robyn Sloggett

- Co-ordinated with Dr Edwin Jurriëns the Australia Awards Fellowships Program on Reconciliation and Cultural Recovery, 1 September- 5 October. Counterparts included Institut Kesenian Jakarta, Indonesia, Australian National University, Canberra, Australia Timor Aid, Timor-Leste Belun, Timor-Leste Universitas Indonesia, Indonesia Institut Teknologi Bandung, Indonesia, University of Tasmania, Hobart, Australia. Participants attended the International Council of Museum and Committee for Conservation's 17th Triennial Conference, 'Building Strong Culture through Conservation'.
- Through Associate Professor Robyn Sloggett, the University's Centre for Cultural Materials Conservation (CCMC) has an ongoing relationship and is conducting ongoing work with the East Timorese Secretariat of State for Culture in training and museum development. The program has been in place since 2000 and has included AusAID Fellowships, in country training and seminars at UoM and Museum and Art Gallery of the Northern Territory.

Nicole Tse and Robyn Sloggett

- Co-chair APTCCARN Asia Pacific Tropical Climate Conservation Art Research Network.
- Co-editors of the APTCCARN Proceedings.
- Significance Assessment and Preservation of the Music Archive at Monash University and Museum of Indonesian Arts with Prof. Margaret Kartomi.

Student Conservators at Melbourne:

Five GCCMC Masters students with Robyn Sloggett undertook a cultural training program abroad with Timor Leste counterparts.

GCCMC students met with Belun and Timor Aid and with students from the National University of Timor Lorosa'e (UNTL) and staff from Timor-Leste's Secretariat of State for Culture Alfonso Koapaha and Robyn Sloggett (Centre for Cultural Materials Conservations) to explore the development of conservation programs and curriculum development for conservation training in Indonesia at the Balibo fort and at Balibo house – this will be supported through University to University engagement to develop future programs.

PROJECTS/ ACHIEVEMENTS

Rachael Diprose, Bart Klem, Kate Macdonald, Professor Jonathan Goodhand, Professor Adrian Little, Dr John Langmore and others hold a Melbourne School of Government Grant to look at conflict and borderlands, with research cases on the Indonesia/Malaysia border, Afghanistan and the Myanmar/China border.

Fiona Haines and Kate MacDonald currently hold a joint ARC

Linkage Grant with other scholars including Indonesian case studies called 'Evaluating redress mechanisms governing the human rights practices of transnational business: lessons for institutional design and operation'.

The School of Social and Political Sciences will begin teaching two new Masters coursework subjects in Yogyakarta at Universitas Gadjah Mada in November 2015 on 'Comparative Social Policy' and on 'ASEAS and Southeast Asian regionalism'.

In April 2014, Dean of Arts, Professor Mark Considine and John Murphy, visited Yogyakarta to meet with colleagues at the Faculty of Social and Political Science, Universitas Gadjah Mada, discussing joint Masters subjects, research collaboration and training opportunities in the Indonesian civil service.

In November, John Murphy visited the Indonesian Ministry of Social Affairs (Kemensos) to discuss research collaboration with Dr. Mu'man Nuryana, Head of Education and Research in Social Welfare.

While in Indonesia John Murphy taught with Dr Bagus Aryo an intensive joint Masters coursework subject in Jakarta on 'Social Policy and Development'. Fifteen Melbourne students (from Masters coursework degrees in International Relations, Social Policy, Development Studies and Public Policy and Management) joined with twelve Indonesian Masters students. This is the fourth time the subject has been run in Jakarta. Guest presenters included members from the Australian Embassy, the Director of the SMERU Research Institute, and the health policy advisor to the Vice-President of Indonesia.

On 5- 6 November, the School of Social and Political Sciences hosted a two day international symposium on 'Indonesian social policies in comparative perspective', convened by John Murphy. The Workshop included 25 invited participants from Universitas Indonesia, Universitas Gadjah Mada, National University of Singapore, Australian National University, University of Sydney, SMERU Research Institute (Jakarta) and staff and PhD students from the University of Melbourne (including the Melbourne School of Government and the Nossal Institute of Global Health).

In December, the Melbourne School of Government held a research workshop on the topic 'Transnational influence on national resource governance'. This research workshop was attended by two academics from Indonesia; Riga Adiwoso, from Universitas Indonesia and Hasrul Hanif, from Universitas Gadjah Mada. To support the development of ongoing collaborative research on the same topic, the School will host a visit from Poppy Winanti, from Universitas Gadjah Mada, in February 2015.

STAFF WITH INDONESIA INTERESTS

Dr Aline Scott-Maxwell

Ms Michelle Hall

Ms Mary Ann Gibson

Mr Richard Serle

Aline Scott-Maxwell is the liaison librarian for Indonesian Studies. Her appointment at the University of Melbourne is part of a co-operative arrangement with Monash University Library, where she is Senior Asian Studies Librarian. This shared position is made possible by the Melbourne-Monash protocol and the Asian Libraries in Melbourne consortium, which promotes resource sharing between University of Melbourne and Monash University libraries and reciprocal access to their Asian collections. Aline Scott-Maxwell provides reference support to Asia Institute and Indonesia Forum staff and postgraduates, including research consultancies. She also coordinates collection development.

Additional library support for Indonesian studies in 2014 was provided by Michelle Hall (East Asia collection) and staff in the Collection Development division, including Mary Ann Gibson and Richard Serle, the Pitt Officer, who assisted to build the Library's Indonesian collection in the area of acquisitions.

In 2014, the Library continued to develop its collections of Indonesia-related monographs and other materials in the subject areas of Indonesian politics and government, religion, history, anthropology, language, literature, law, education, mass media, architecture and performance. These acquisitions included some DVDs of films and documentaries. 301 Indonesian-language monographs were purchased, of which 260 were funded by the Pitt Bequest (which supports the work of the School of Historical Studies). Most of these were supplied by Indonesian vendor Patamga Dhanam Jaya. A further 55 books in English on Indonesian subjects were purchased from the Library's allocation to the Asia Institute and the Arts approval plan. A new Indonesian journal title was also acquired, Historia: masa lampau selalu aktual.

There are now over 15,000 Indonesia-related items in the collections, including more than 6,500 Indonesian-language items. There are over 2000 Indonesia-related electronic resources on the Library catalogue, mainly English-language. These include e-books, reports, facsimiles of early works and journals.

Professor Trevor Duke (Centre for International Child Health, Department of Paediatrics)

Professor Steve Graham (Centre for International Child Health, Department of Paediatrics)

The University of Melbourne is working with the Department of Paediatrics at Gadjah Mada University (UGM) in Yogyakarta on a neonatal rotavirus vaccine trial, which is being conducted in Yogyakarta and surrounding districts. This has involved training of over 500 staff at UGM and in the community in GCP requirements, recognition and management of common childhood illness and advanced paediatric life support for doctors at primary health centres. In addition, studies have been developed that will lead to research higher degrees including a study on maternal antibodies and immune response to rotavirus vaccines (Vicka Oktaria, PhD candidate). The program is also working closely with the Indonesian government vaccine manufacturer, BioFarma with the aim to manufacture the RV3 rotavirus vaccine at low cost for babies in Indonesia and globally.

The Centre for International Child Health is working with the Department of Paediatrics at UGM on several research

Centre for International Mental Health, Melbourne School of Population and Global Health

www.cimh.unimelb.edu.au/

STAFF WITH INDONESIA INTERESTS

Associate Professor Harry Minas (Director, Centre for International Mental Health)

Dr Erminia Colucci (Research Fellow, Centre for International Mental Health)

Dr Ritsuko Kakuma (Senior Research Fellow, Centre for International Mental Health)

PROJECTS/ ACHIEVEMENTS

The Centre for International Mental Health (CIMH) has a strong history of collaborative partnerships with leaders in mental health systems development and services in Indonesia, particularly with University of Indonesia, Gadjah Mada University, and with the Ministry of Health and Ministry of Social Affairs. Several of the key leaders for mental health systems and policy development in Indonesia are past graduates of the Centre's International Mental Health Leadership Program (IMHLP).

Since 2005, CIMH has been involved in supporting the development of mental health systems at provincial and national levels, with capacity building, policy development and program implementation activities.

These have included:

- Developing a Monitoring and Evaluation Strategy for the Indonesia Free from Pusang Program. A/Prof Harry Minas and Dr Ritsuko Kukuma.
This 12-month project, supported by an AusAID Public Sector Linkages Program grant, is linked to the national Indonesia Free from Pusang (Indonesia Bebas Pusang) initiative. The design of the national program has been refined, a core group has received two weeks intensive training in program monitoring and evaluation at the University of Melbourne, and a monitoring and evaluation strategy has been developed.
- A film by Dr Erminia Colucci, in collaboration with A/Prof Harry Minas, Dr Hervita Diatri and other Indonesian partners, Free From Pasung: The fight for human rights for Indonesia's mentally ill.
Synopsis: The practice of using shackles and chains (known in Indonesia as pasung) to physically restrain persons with mental illness to control their behaviour is widespread in Indonesia (as in many other developing countries) and almost universally ignored. To address these severe human rights violations, the Indonesian government has committed to the elimination of this practice across the country by 2015. This film-documentary, the first of its kind, highlights the activities carried out at several levels in the country (from the government to the Pasung survivors and their community) to eradicate this form of human rights abuse and give freedom and dignity to the mentally ill.

PROJECTS / ACHIEVEMENTS

Australia-Indonesia Partnership for Pro-Poor Policy, The Knowledge Sector Initiative

The KSI program is a partnership between the Australian Government Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade (DFAT) and the Indonesian National Agency for Planning and Evaluation (Bappenas). Program implementation commenced in 2014, but progress has been slow, owing to delays in administrative approvals.

The Nossal Institute, as one of the consortium partners managing delivery of the program, provided technical support to several aspects of the program:

- (a) Review and technical advice on the organisational development proposals of the two health-related research institute partners: The Centre for HIV at Atmajaya University, and the Centre for Health Policy and Management at Universitas Gadjah Mada;
- (b) Facilitation and presentation of sessions on strengthening organisational monitoring and evaluation for the KSI research institute partners at the M&E workshop in May;
- (c) Planning and conducting of a series of case studies on current practice and use of evidence in health sector policy making as part of initial mapping of policy making in the health sector. The case studies included studies of policy making in regard to: Operational Funding Support for Puskesmas (Bantuan Operasional Kesehatan); placement and retention of village midwives; national health accounts; and the extent of inclusion of recommendations from the DFAT funded health sector review in the national 5 year strategic plan (RPJMN 2015-2019). It is anticipated that reports on the case studies and mapping will be completed in early 2015.

Australia Indonesia Partnerships in Maternal and

Neonatal Health (AIPMNH)

This DFAT funded program aims to assist the Government of Indonesia to reduce maternal and neonatal mortality in the province of Nusa Tenggara Timur (NTT) in eastern Indonesia. The Nossal Institute, as one of the consortium partners responsible for delivery of the program, has been providing technical support and strategic oversight in areas of clinical service delivery, management and leadership training, and monitoring and evaluation, since the program's commencement in 2009. DFAT requested an extension of the program for a further year in 2014, in preparation for transition to a follow up program to commence in 2015.

AIPMNH has been successful in assisting the provincial and district governments in reducing maternal mortality by 30% over the period 2009 to 2013, but less successful in reducing neonatal mortality, which remains unchanged. During 2014, the Nossal Institute provided technical and analytic support to the design and conduct of a number of specific studies to explore the factors responsible for the program's success in maternal health, and lack of success in neonatal health. These studies included: a case control study of neonatal deaths; a study of the recording, reporting and communication of maternal and neonatal outcomes between hospitals, Puskesmas, and district health offices; a study of the transfer of staff within and between districts, and their retention of skills from clinical training; and analysis of routinely reported data to identify where improvements in coverage of MNH services were associated with reductions in reported maternal deaths. Reports of these studies are included in regular progress reporting from the program.

Compromised fertility in contemporary Indonesia – ARC Future Fellowship project

This four year Future Fellowship project is the first in-depth investigation of infertility in Indonesian society. It focuses on women's experiences of compromised fertility and its impact on their lives, examining the intersections of social suffering and gender discrimination for infertile women. It examines women's health seeking practices, their access to traditional therapies and assisted reproductive technologies, and the potential for improved prevention strategies. It explores the roles of culture, ethnicity, religion, class and state mechanisms in shaping understandings and experiences of infertility. It has advanced the body of research on infertility conducted from human rights and anthropological perspectives and reinforced the relevance of the United Nations definition of reproductive health, for all people regardless of whether they live in highly or lesser developed nations. One of the key finding of this research to date has been the extent to which sexual health is neglected within infertility care regimes, despite sexually transmitted infections being the major cause of infertility worldwide. The project was completed in 2014 and a special journal edition on infertility in Indonesia is now forthcoming, edited by Dr Linda Bennett.

MELBOURNE CONSERVATORIUM OF MUSIC

www.music.unimelb.edu.au

The Melbourne Conservatorium of Music maintains three sets of gamelan (Javanese, Sundanese and Cirebonese musical instruments/orchestras), representing most of the main gamelan traditions of Indonesia, as well as a set of wayang kulit puppets and a kecapi-suling ensemble. There is active study and performance of gamelan music and the gamelan collection is housed in the Melbourne Conservatorium of Music's Parkville annex in Berkeley Street.

STAFF WITH INDONESIA-RELATED INTERESTS

Professor Cathy Falk (Head of Ethnomusicology)

Ms Ilona Wright

(Lecturer [casual] and Director of Gamelan Ensemble)

TEACHING

In 2014 there was once again a large number of students enrolled in gamelan classes, with 35 students enrolled in summer intensive, 17 students enrolled in first semester and 29 students in second semester. Many of these students are taking gamelan as a breadth subject. The students all participated in a combined concert with Melbourne Community Gamelan at the end of both semesters.

Ilona Wright taught 'Gamelan in Modern Indonesia' and directed the gamelan ensemble.

PERFORMANCES

Melbourne Community Gamelan Inc (MCG) performs musical pieces from Solo (Central Java). The group is taught by Ki Poedijono, who was the musical director for all of the MCG's 2014 performances. Marianne Lessels is the current President of the group. The group can be contacted by email: melgamelan@hotmail.com, through its website: www.melgamelan.com.au and facebook: www.facebook.com/melgamelan.

During 2014 MCG performed five times:

MCG coordinated end of semester concerts, 'The Final Gong', which took place on 17 February, 26 May and 27 October. These concerts featured MCG and the University of Melbourne student groups, and were held at the Conservatorium's Berkeley Street premises, attended by about 80 to 100 people. Helen Pausacker performed a short wayang (shadow puppet) performance, accompanied by MCG for the February and May concerts. The May concert also featured Trio Agogo (Brazilian instrumental music). Gamelan DanAnda played Selunding style gamelan from East Bali at the October concert.

On 28 May 2014 MCG accompanied Helen Pausacker for a one hour wayang performance at Preston Library, City of Darebin; and on 10 Nov 2014, MCG provided music for the Indonesia Forum's book launch of Deryn Mansell's novel for teenagers, Tiger Stone.

Putra Panji Asmara Inc (PPA) performs musical pieces from Cirebon, a region on the north coast of West Java, with a focus on music to accompany topeng (masked dance). The group is led by Michael Ewing from the University of Melbourne's Asia Institute, who can be contacted by email at: mce@unimelb.edu.au.

PPA was on leave for most of 2014, and therefore did not take part in any performances.

PROJECTS / ACHIEVEMENTS

Design and delivery of short-course in Adolescent Development and Participation

In 2014, the Youth Research Centre (YRC) continued worked with UNICEF Indonesia to design and deliver a short course, 'Understanding and Advancing Adolescent Health, Development and Participation', to a group of 30 young participants, representing a number of different youth-led, government, NGO and community-based organisations. The course presents up-to-date local data on adolescents, explores how data can be used to inform programs, presents the latest evidence-based interventions, promotes youth leadership and shares promising practice from around Indonesia and the broader Asia Pacific region. The materials developed for the training are now available for others to adapt and use in various settings.

Violence prevention in schools in Papua Province

Following a suite of work with UNICEF Papua in 2013, which included the design and delivery of teacher training in positive behaviour management strategies and the development of social and emotional learning curriculum for Primary and Secondary classrooms, the YRC continued to advise UNICEF in their efforts explore how these materials can be integrated into the local curriculum.

This project has involved a collaborative effort from UNICEF,

CILIS/ALC CONFERENCES / SEMINARS

CILIS Research Seminar Series

In 2014 CILIS hosted their regular Seminar Series. In this series, postgraduates and academics who are researching and writing on Asian legal topics present a 45 minute paper, followed by questions and discussion. Two speakers gave papers on Indonesia-related issues:

- Andy Schmulow: 'Indonesian Banking: Could it Crash Again?' (PhD completion seminar), 31 January.
- Dr Dina Afrianty (State Islamic University Jakarta; Endeavour Post-Doctoral Research Fellow and CILIS Associate, the University of Melbourne), 'Women and Islamic Higher Education in Indonesia', 12 February.

CILIS hosted a book launch and photographic exhibition of the book by Lies Marcoes-Natsir and Anne Lockley, with photographer Armin Hari, A Journey against Defeat: Narratives of Women's Rejection of Poverty, 14 October.

Indonesian Elections 2014

CILIS hosted a public lecture by Professor Todung Mulya Lubis, founder and Senior Partner of Lubis Santosa & Maramis Law Firm, Jakarta: 'Indonesia's Presidential Election: Reform Challenges for the New Administration', 8 October.

Melbourne Law School hosted the Miegunyah Public Lecture by Dr Jamhari Makruf: 'Incubators for Extremists? Radicalism and Moderation in Indonesia's Islamic Education System', 10 June.

Together with the Electoral Regulation Research Network (ERRN), Election Watch and the Melbourne School of Government, CILIS hosted two evening seminars:

- Dr Dirk Tomsa (La Trobe University), Dr Vanessa Hearman (the University of Sydney), Professor Thomas Reuter (Asia Institute, the University of Melbourne) and Dr Dave McRae (Asia Institute, the University of Melbourne): 'The Indonesian Election: What Really Happened', 14 April.
- Dr Dave McRae (Senior Research Fellow, Asia Institute, and CILIS Associate), Dr Jemma Purdey (Research Fellow, Deakin University), Dr Nadirsyah Hosen (Senior Lecturer, University of Wollongong and CILIS Associate), Professor Colin Brown (Adjunct Professor, Griffith University): 'Indonesia's Presidential Elections: What Happens Next?', 2 July.

Tim Lindsey and Greg Sheridan (Foreign Editor, The Australian) also spoke at an event, 'Australia, Asia and Democracy's Biggest Year', co-hosted by Election Watch, Australia India Institute, CILIS and the Melbourne School of Government.

Islamic Studies Postgraduate Conference

On 11-12 November 2014, CILIS hosted the 10th National Islamic Studies Postgraduate Conference. Twenty-four students presented, with 18 of the presentations related to Indonesia. CILIS Senior Associates Professor Greg Fealy (ANU), and Professor Virginia Hooker (ANU), and CILIS Associates Dr Nadirsyah Hosen (University of Wollongong) and Dr Kerstin Steiner (Monash) attended as guest mentors. Tim Lindsey and Abdullah Saeed were also mentors.

Bibliographic Websites

Asian Law Online continued in 2014. It can be accessed at: <www.law.unimelb.edu.au/alc/bibliography>.

Offered to the public as a free service to assist students, scholars and practitioners of Asian legal systems, Asian Law Online is a collection of English language materials on Asian laws available throughout the world. It includes books, chapters in books, journal articles and theses on Indonesian law, and provides access to a large number of Indonesian law websites.

In 2014 CILIS continued to develop its new bibliographic database, 'Islamic Law Online', which can be accessed at: <<http://cils.law.unimelb.edu.au/ilo>>. Islamic Law Online is a collection of publications on Islamic law available throughout the world.

Australian Journal of Asian Law

With Professor Veronica Taylor of ANU, Professor Richard Cullen of the University of Hong Kong and Dr Melissa Crouch of the National University of Singapore, Amanda Whiting, Tim Lindsey and Helen Pausacker from the Asian Law Centre edited the international refereed journal, The Australian Journal of Asian Law, which covers Southeast Asia, including Indonesia.

Asialink is Australia's leading centre for building Asia capability, public understanding of Asia, and appreciation of Australia's role in the Asian region. It is based at the University of Melbourne's Sidney Myer Asia Centre and is an initiative of the Myer Foundation. Asialink works with business, government, philanthropic and cultural partners to initiate and strengthen Australia-Asia engagement on all levels and across all sectors. Asialink works to build an Asia-capable, deeply Asia-engaged Australia through thought leadership and innovative programs that build knowledge, skills and partnerships. Asialink delivers high-level forums, international collaborations, leadership training, education and cultural exchange programs in Australia and Asia.

Asialink regularly works in partnership with a variety of organisations – from Universities, Business Councils and Community groups - including the Asia Institute, the Asian Law Centre, Asian Economics Centre, the Australian Centre for International Business, the Indonesia Forum, the Indonesian Muslim Youth Exchange Program and the Australia-Indonesia Business Council.

The Asialink Arts - Annual Report

This report included a number of Indonesia related projects including the Vertigo exhibition tour to Galeri Soemardja, Bandung Institute of Technology, Bandung, and the launch of Kerjasama, a special residency exchange between Indonesian artist Akiq Abdul Wahid and Indigenous Australian artist Reko Rennie.

Junji: Indonesia 2014 and Beyond

This bi-lingual publication profiled the suite of Indonesia related activities Asialink Arts engaged in throughout 2014.

Vertigo: Chaos and dislocation in contemporary Australian art

The exhibition catalogue to accompany Asialink Arts 2014 touring exhibition Vertigo. Vertigo toured to Galeri Soemardja, Bandung. Printed in English, a translated insert was produced in Bahasa Indonesia for distribution at Galeri Soemardja.

So Long as You Move

The bi-lingual exhibition catalogue to accompany the exhibition So Long as You Move, a collaborative exhibition which saw Asialink Arts partner with Monash University Museum of Art (Melbourne) and Ark Galerie (Yogyakarta).

Put Up a Signal

In 2013 Asialink Arts partnered with Bus Projects (Melbourne) and Ruang MES 56 (Yogyakarta) on Put Up a Signal, an initiative exploring the possibilities of international collaboration through online exchange. In 2014 the bi-lingual project publication was launched.

ASIALINK EDUCATION

(Asia Education Foundation)

The Asia Education Foundation (AEF) is a joint activity of Asialink at the University of Melbourne and Education Services Australia Ltd. The AEF supports schools to implement Asia and Australia's engagement with Asia cross-curriculum priority of the Australian Curriculum.

Australia-Indonesia BRIDGE School Partnerships Project

The Australia-Indonesia BRIDGE (Building Relationships through Intercultural Dialogue and Growing Engagement) School Partnerships Project is an internationally recognised professional learning program that supports the establishment of Australia-Indonesia school partnerships. Since 2008, the project has established 112 school partnerships and directly involved 448 Australian and Indonesian teachers through a blended model of face-to-face and online interaction.

The project is an initiative of the Asia Education Foundation (AEF) and Australia-Indonesia Institute (AII), funded by Australian Aid.

Sixty-four Australian and Indonesian teachers from thirty-two schools attended professional learning programs facilitated by the AEF at the University of Melbourne in February and May 2014. The program focused on information and communication technologies (ICT), intercultural understanding, Australian education, history and contemporary society and school partnership building. The Indonesian teachers accompanied their Australian counterparts to their respective Australian states and territories for a two-week school and homestay program, further consolidating their professional learning experience.

Australian Aid and the Department of Education have supported Australian BRIDGE teachers to visit their Indonesian partner schools since 2013. Funding for the Australia-Indonesian BRIDGE Project is secured until December 2015.

AEF Study Programs – Indonesia 2014

In 2014, AEF delivered three Study Programmes to 53 participants. The Indonesia study programmes aim at increasing Australian teachers and school leaders' knowledge and understanding of Indonesia's diversity through school visits, cultural experiences and briefings from in-country experts.

In January, fourteen educators from all over Australia participated in a programme visiting Makassar, Jakarta and Yogyakarta. In July, eleven educators joined the Indonesia study programme to visit Jakarta and Yogyakarta. In September, the programme focused on the development of Indonesian language and generalist classroom teachers through a range of experiences that explore tradition and contemporary Indonesian culture. Twenty eight teachers/educators participated in the September programme visiting Denpasar and Jakarta.

These Indonesian Study Programmes work closely with the BRIDGE School Partnerships project where partners from the Australian BRIDGE schools are able to access scholarship funding to join the Study Programme before or after their Indonesian school visit/homestay.

ASIALINK BUSINESS

Asialink facilitates a range of forums and services for business, government, academia and the broader community that serve to stimulate debate, provide increased understanding and promote greater engagement with the Asian region. In 2014, this included:

- State of the Nation Indonesia with Mr Suryo Sulisto, Founder and Chairman, Satmarindo Group and Chairman KADIN, Indonesia. Mr Sulisto was joined by a panel of experts who shared their views on a confident new Indonesia that is rapidly developing. Panel members candidly addressed many of the myths that have affected bilateral trade and suggested how Australia could engage with Indonesia after the new government takes charge later in the year. Panel members included: Mr Debnath Guharoy, Regional Director, Roy Morgan Research; Ms Juliet Bell, Executive Manager, International, CSIRO; Mr Andrew Parker, Partner, PwC; Professor Greg Barton, Monash University; Mr Andrew Barlow, Partner, PwC; Professor Andrew O'Neil, Head, School of Government and International Relations, Griffith Asia Institute; Mr Hamish McDonald, Asia-Pacific Editor, Sydney Morning Herald. Event held in Canberra, Melbourne, Brisbane and Sydney in June 2014.
- Boardroom Briefing with Joseph Abraham on The Economic and Political Outlook for Indonesia with Joseph Abraham, CEO Indonesia, ANZ, providing insights into the economic and political changes unfolding in Indonesia.

ASIALINK ARTS

Asialink Arts develops opportunities for cultural exchange between Australia and Asia to improve the Asia capability of the cultural sector, based on the principles of partnership, collaboration and reciprocity.

Asialink Arts initiated the following Indonesia related activities in 2014:

- The Asialink Arts and BLINDSIDE exhibition Vertigo launched its three country tour at Galeri Soemardja, Bandung Institute of Technology. The exhibition featured neon, video, installation, drawing and painting by ten Australian contemporary artists: Boe-lin Bastian, Cate Consandine, Simon Finn, Justine Khamara, Bonnie Lane, Kristin McIver, Kiron Robinson, Tania Smith, Kate Shaw and Alice Wormald. Engaging with the local students, Vertigo was accompanied by a series of artistic and curatorial workshops run by exhibiting artist Kiron Robinson and exhibition curator Claire Anna Watson.
- Asialink Arts, in partnership with Artback NT: Arts Development and Touring and Cemeti Art House Yogyakarta, piloted a new Indigenous and Regional focused residency model Kerjasama, meaning 'Collaboration'. The exchange featured Australian Indigenous artist Reko Rennie, who travelled to Yogyakarta, and Indonesian artist Akiq Abdul Wahid, who travelled to Alice Springs. Following the success of his Kerjasama residency exhibition in Alice Springs, Akiq Abdul Wahid also exhibited at Chan Contemporary Art Space, Darwin during Trading Ideas, a conference celebrating cultural investment between the NT and Asia Pacific.
- Island to Island was a roving writing residency undertaken by Australian writers Gillian Terzis and André Dao, and Indonesian writers Maggie Tiojakin and Ninda Daianti. Managed by the Emerging Writers' Festival, the project took place in multiple locations across Indonesia during September and October 2014. The participants followed an itinerary driven by creative and professional interests, before featuring in the Ubud Writers & Readers Festival program.
- Instrument Builders Project (IBP) is an ongoing collaboration between Australian and Indonesian artists and musicians. Asialink Arts supported both the second and third iterations of IBP in Yogyakarta and at the National Gallery of Victoria Studio Space. The Melbourne based project centred on an evolving combined studio and gallery space, public programs and periods of experimentation. Participants included Tintin Wulia (IND/AUS), Dale Gorfinkel (AUS), Wukir Suryadi (IND), Andreas Siagian (IND), Pia Van Gelder (AUS), Michael Candy (AUS), Pak Asep Nata (IND).

- Asialink Arts and MUMA collaborated to produce the video exhibition So Long as You Move, featuring the work of Australian artists Daniel Crooks, Shaun Gladwell, Bianca Hester and David Rosetzky. Co-curated by Indonesian curator Alia Swastika (Ark Galerie) and Australian Patrice Sharkey (MUMA), the exhibition considered the influence of performativity on Australian video art. So Long as You Move was accompanied by a bilingual catalogue, a forum and a series of public programs.
- In 2013, Asialink Arts partnered with Bus Projects (AU) and Ruang MES 56 (IN) on Put Up a Signal, an initiative exploring the possibilities of international collaboration through online exchange. In 2014 a bilingual project publication was launched, featuring essays from members of the curatorium, and experts on screen cultures in Australia and Indonesia. The publication reflected ideas developed during the projects' first iteration, which included multiple screenings at Federation Square, a forum and an exhibition at Bus Projects.
- On 9 September 2014, the Asia Institute and Asialink Arts presented Asian Art Worlds: Collectors, Curators & Critics. The symposium explored the critical infrastructure of the Asian art world, with a focus on Indonesia and Timor Leste. Speakers included Australia Award fellows from Indonesia and Timor Leste visiting Australia as part of a University of Melbourne initiated program on Reconciliation and Cultural Recovery. Asialink Arts hosted a roundtable discussion on 2 October, 2014 with the nine fellows to highlight future opportunities for partnerships and collaboration.

2014 ASIALINK ARTS RESIDENCIES IN INDONESIA

In 2014, Asialink Arts awarded five Australian practitioners residencies to Indonesia in conjunction with hosts located in Yogyakarta and West Sumatra: Katie Lee, hosted by Hyphen;

Joshua Lowe, hosted by Institut Seni Indonesia; Keg de Souza, hosted by KUNCI Cultural Studies Centre; Michael Hornblow, hosted by Wayang Ukur; and Lucas Abela, hosted by Yes/No Klub.

Asialink also partnered with Cemeti Art House in Yogyakarta and Artback NT: Arts Development and Touring, Alice Springs, to deliver a pilot program called Kerjasama, or 'Collaborate'. Kerjasama has become a crucial platform for Asialink to increase awareness of the Arts Residency Program to Indigenous applicants, and a means of supporting reciprocal residencies for Indonesian artists to Australia.

Australian arts professionals to Indonesia:

Katie Lee (VIC)

Host organisation: Hyphen, Yogyakarta
Residency dates: 18 June – 1 September 2014

During her residency in Yogyakarta, Katie Lee worked closely with Surprapto Suryodarmo, a dance and movement teacher in Solo; visual artist Handi Werman; and Curator Grace Samboh. She researched and documented rubber tree plantations and a rubber recycling plant in Yogyakarta to inform a new body of work that was exhibited at SaRang Gallery in Yogyakarta and Bus Gallery on return to Melbourne.

Joshua Lowe (TAS)

Host Organisation: Institut Seni Indonesia, Padang Panjang, West Sumatra
Residency dates: 15 September – 4 December 2014

Joshua Lowe is a dancer, choreographer and arts administrator. At Institut Seni Indonesia, a public university located in West Sumatra, Josh replicated the Tasdance Education Performance Project within a local context. Josh taught contemporary technique to first and second year students, and remounted his dance work Supremacy with third year students from the Faculty of Performing Arts.

Keg de Souza (NSW)

Host Organisation: KUNCI Cultural Studies Centre,

Yogyakarta

Residency dates: 11 August – 7 November 2014

Keg de Souza developed the project If There's Something Strange In Your Neighbourhood... using local ghost stories as a metaphor to explore the precarious nature of two kampungs located alongside Yogyakarta's Kali River. Keg interviewed kampung residents and the local 'ghost buster' to create a video work and inflatable ghost house that explored the evictions of both ghosts and people within the community.

Michael Hornblow (VIC)

Host Organisation: Wayang Ukur, Yogyakarta
Residency dates: 18 August – 10 November 2014

Michael Hornblow worked with the Wayang Ukur community to explore participatory modes of working informed by Javanese animism and Wayang puppet theatre. He performed in four Indonesian arts festivals including Arts Island Festival (Bali, Kediri, Batu); Bedog Arts Festival (Yogyakarta); Opera Jawa Festival (Yogyakarta), and Melaka Arts and Performance Festival (Malaysia).

Lucas Abela (NSW)

Host Organisation: Yes/No Klub
Residency dates: 11 August – 7 November 2014

Lucas Abela collaborated with two of Yogyakarta's most celebrated musicians; instrument builder Wukir Suryadi and vocalist Rully Shabara Herman to build Gamelan Wizard, a musical instrument/pinball hybrid that introduces Gamelan elements into the iconic game of pinball to create random compositions based on game-play.

Kerjasama*: Reciprocal Residency between Australia and Indonesia

Reko Rennie (VIC)

Host Organisation: Cemeti Art House, Yogyakarta
Residency dates: 4 – 25 September 2014; and 9 – 28 October 2014

Reko Rennie worked with several local artists in Yogyakarta to create a new body of work that was exhibited at Cemeti Art House. Titled Warriors Come Out To Play, the show included a video work and large installation consisting of 12 new paintings, 10 embroidered artworks, a 10-metre wall painting, aluminium sculpture and hand-painted 1972 Vespa.

Akiq AW (Yogyakarta)

Host Organisation: Artback NT: Arts Development and Touring, Alice Springs

Residency dates: 1 April – 30 June 2014

Akiq AW connected with local artists in Alice Springs to produce a new body of work for a group show at artist run space Watch This SPACE. Titled Borders, the exhibition attracted great media coverage and led to a post-residency solo exhibition at Chan Contemporary Art Space in Darwin. While Akiq's show Border V2.0 was on in Darwin, Akiq presented with Asialink Arts and Artback NT: Arts Development and Touring

APPENDIX 1:

Indonesia Forum terms of reference

To provide an inter-faculty forum for the sharing of information about Indonesia such as news of current events, visitors, university systems and contacts between the University of Melbourne and universities in Indonesia.
