

WHO ARE MEDLEYS?

In 1915, the first "Medical Medleys" was performed to raise funds for the Red Cross to go towards the WWI effort. The University of Melbourne Medical Revue is the longest running revue on campus, and continues to raise money for charity. This year, all proceeds will go to Berry Street, who help children, young people and families recover from the effects of violence, abuse and neglect.

Each show is part sketch comedy and part musical, and all written and performed by a cast of medical students. Enjoy the show, it'll be humerus!
