The thunder was loud and the lightning flashed. "Lisa darling, you need to calm Fluffy down. She's scared of the thunder" yelled Mum. "Do I have to?" I yelled back "Yes!" replied mum so I went outside and started to try to calm down my pet rabbit. Then BANG! It suddenly felt like I was shrinking.

I looked at the ground and saw that I had four feet. I must be seeing things! I went down some stairs. I looked out the window. "Hang on, that's not a window, that's the cage and that means that I'm in Fluffy's cage. Oh no!" cried Lisa

I could hear mum yelling "Lisa, Lisa where are you?" She was looking for me but I was in Fluffy's cage. She would not think to look for me in there.

The cage was soooo gross. Every step I took, I would step in rabbit poo. As time passed, the night started to get freezing cold and I couldn't get to sleep. In fact there were so many night noises it was almost impossible.

The next morning the sun was shining and the birds were singing. Mum came out and went to put me on the grass in the garden. Mum seemed a bit sad. I started hopping around. I didn't know how to hop but I gave it ago. It was really fun! I tried to go really fast. I raced to the fence and jumped into a plant that was spiky, "Ouch!" I hopped back to the cage. Mum came back out and put me back in the cage and she was still crying a lot. I felt sorry for her because she was crying but I couldn't tell her I was okay because she doesn't speak rabbit! I said to myself, "I don't want to be a rabbit anymore..." and at that moment it started to once again rain and thunder. Then BANG!

I was outside in the rain dripping with water patting fluffy. I ran inside and gave mum a very big hug. She was so relieved and so was I!
