You’re invited.
Apple Leadership and Learning Event

Apple recognises you as a leader in your school, responsible for the transformation of teaching and learning. Please join us and other education leaders to explore how digital content is changing the education landscape and creating new teaching and learning opportunities.

Here’s some of what you’ll experience at this event

Join this conversation about how a digital learning environment can help you facilitate new approaches to teaching and learning.

Explore strategies for visionary leadership and innovative teaching. Find out how Apple technology combined with powerful creative content is reinventing the learning experience. And hear from visionary leaders and educators who have transformed their districts and classrooms to enhance teaching, personalise learning and prepare students for their futures.

Agenda

• Time for a New Conversation
