Tragedy strikes on Eros, moon of Jupiter

Breaking news! Recently on Eros, a large moon orbiting Jupiter, there has been death on a massive scale. Survivor Jim Holden suspects that the company Protogen may be behind this tragedy, in light of recent events such as the finding of a Martian bomb inside deserted ship, the Scopuli. Protogen has been known to have done questionable deeds in the past, even being suspected of murdering political opponents. These facts give suggest that Protogen was behind the capture and eventual destruction of the Scopuli, and it would not be crazy to say they were behind the mass death on Eros. Scientist have recorded unusual things from the station, such as reports of strange brown matter stuck to the walls and seeming to contain body parts such as rib cages, severed hands and other gruesome things. Armed soldiers thought to be posing as Eros police forces were reported to have sent people into radiation shelters when alarms went off in the station, but these “radiation shelters” actually contained a deadly gas, and their floors looked to be covered in the same brown matter as the rest of the station. Feeds from the CCTV cameras recorded banging and shouting from inside the shelters, which rapidly ended with coughing and then silence. Hours after this silence began, there were cracking and groaning sounds recorded inside. Could this be signs of some deadly bioweapon designed by Protogen in case the Belt and Mars fell into a war? Or could it be something else, perhaps extra-terrestrial? In any case, this brown mass dissolved one point five million people into piles of goop, and should be treated as a threat by the interplanetary governments.

UPDATE 21:37.26.7.2365: The government of earth has decided to send their entire arsenal of nuclear missiles towards Eros after it reportedly “dodged” the ion torpedo a lone cargo freighter discharged at it. Results confirm the fact that Eros is approximately 4500 kilometres off its original latitude. It is now accelerating in the direction of Earth and does not seem to be slowing down.

UPDATE 02:58.27.7.2365: Eros has now mysteriously changed course and seems to be heading towards Jupiter instead of Earth. Nobody knows what is causing these mysterious changes, only that it has saved the life of 10 billion Earth inhabitants by turning towards the uninhabited Jupiter. Pulse mines planted on Eros by the Outer Planets Alliance will destroy Eros before it has a chance to damage the orbit of Jupiter.
